GORÉ AND FOLK WILL AID BELL

Eastern Democratic Leaders to Assist California Bourbon Chief in Race.

Headquarters of the Democratic State Central Committee have been removed from the Argonaut Hotel to rooms 412-416 in the Crocker building, where Chairman R. H. DeWitt and Secretary John F. Murray are now busy arranging for the campaign.

Theodore A. Bell, the Democratic nominee for Governor, has gone East, but will be back in a few days. It is his intention to make the first Democratic speech of the campaign, declaring his policies, in some large hall in this city on the evening of September 2d.

In all likelihood several prominent Democratic leaders of the East, South and Middle West will come to California and take part in the fight early in October. Senator Goré of Oklahoma, Governor Folk of Missouri and Colonel J. Hamilton Lewis of Chicago have accepted invitations to speak or more political speeches for Bell.

REPUBLICANS GATHER IN COUNTY CONVENTION Temporary Organization and Delegates to Consult District Attorney Regarding Legality of Proceedings

With delegates from every district except the Forty-seventh present, the Republican county convention held a formal meeting last night, but adjourned until next Friday night, when it is expected that the canvass of the re-election returns will be completed and the certificates of election issued by the county clerk.

The only action taken by the convention last night was the election of Charles Snock to the temporary chairmanship and G. E. Wade as temporary secretary. The temporary officers will consult with the county clerk and the district attorney in the matter of the issuance of the election certificates.

They will also confer with the officers of the Republican county committee when it is set the date for the meeting of the convention three days after the election, that the canvass might not be completed in time.

The place for holding the convention next Friday night will be selected at a conference between the officers of the county committee and Wade and Snock, who will represent the temporary organization of the county convention.

TOTAL ORGANIZATION.

There was some difference of opinion shown in the discussion that preceded the formal opening of the convention in regard to convening previous to the issuance of election certificates.

On Tuesday evening next the Democratic county convention will assemble in Lyric Hall, 513 Larkin street, for the purpose of selecting a new county committee and choosing delegates to the State convention, which meets in Stockton September 2d.

JORDAN LEADS STATE PRINTER IN RACE FOR OFFICE FIGHT IS VERY CLOSE

Believed to Be Winner in the Contest for Nomination for Secretary of State.

From the latest available figures, Frank Jordan is in the lead for the Republican nomination for Secretary of State over Florence J. O'Brien by a plurality of more than 1200.

These figures are based on partial returns received from 55 out of the 58 counties in the state and are taken to mean that Jordan has won the nomination by a safe margin. It is not considered possible that returns from the counties yet to be heard from can have any material effect on the result of the election as indicated by the partial returns now in.

The fight between Jordan, O'Brien and Wagner has been close. When the only returns were received, Wagner was believed to have been the winner, but Jordan and O'Brien forged ahead as the result of the vote in the interior counties was received. The latest figures give Jordan 54,379, O'Brien 51,332 and Wagner 50,409. This is considered a safe lead and Jordan's nomination for Secretary of State is now practically admitted by all.

As the league has secured a large majority in the convention it is expected to nominate its delegates. It sends to the state convention on the platform the latter shall provide for the state candidates to stand upon during and after the campaign, if elected.

The attitude of the insurgents upon the questions of protective tariff and conservation, both of such vital importance to California, will be scrutinized by all citizens having the development of the resources and industries of the state in view.

QUESTIONS NOW ASKED.

Whether the leaguers will stand for injury and free trade or for tariff and protection of California products are questions now being frequently asked by those who know what those issues mean to California.

The regular or organization Republicans have elected but thirty-nine of the 165 delegates to the county convention, while the league has elected ninety-eight delegates, giving the latter full control of the local assembly. The assembly districts carried by the organization are: Twenty-eight, one delegate; Twenty-ninth, three delegates; Thirtieth, two delegates; Thirty-first, five delegates; Forty-second, three delegates; Forty-third, three delegates; Forty-fourth, four delegates; Forty-fifth, three regular, two delegates.

CARRIED MANY DISTRICTS.

The league carried the Thirty-fourth district, fifteen delegates; Thirty-fifth, ten delegates; Thirty-seventh, twenty-one delegates; Thirty-ninth, twenty-one delegates; Forty-first, thirteen delegates; Forty-first, fourteen delegates.

The Thirty-third and Eighty-eighth districts are the only ones on delegates that the result will only be determined by the official canvass. The delegates from the Thirty-second belong to Dick Welch. Those from the Thirty-sixth report to Fred Eggers who has at least a majority of them.

The convention being thus dominated by the insurgents, they will organize and dictate its platform and policies, which will give the line of campaign to be made by the Lincoln-Roosevelt league, both in the state and city fights.

La Follette's Farm
Is Center of Campaign

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 20.—Senator La Follette is directing his fight for re-nomination at the Republican state convention for senator at the primary election September 10. He has been a factor in the campaign from his farm home, three miles from here, ever since he became a strong-stomached. He goes over to the farm daily and receive his directions.

During the time between his political work and his farm work, he goes out in the fields and works with the farm hands, pitching hay and grain and cultivating growing crops. He is expected to be a factor in the campaign, addressing just before many election days.

Lone Voter Nominates
and Elects Himself

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 20.—Charles F. Harper, candidate and anti-election board of Whipple precinct, out on the desert, brought in the official returns yesterday. His lone vote nominated himself as a Democrat. He is the only member of the party in the place of Calsons. His name will go on the ballot at the November election as Republican and Democratic candidate for constable.

Vanderbilt Victim of La Grippe Attack

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 20.—Reginald C. Vanderbilt is ill with a severe attack of the la grippe and his physicians have ordered him to give up all social functions for the present. Two physicians are in attendance, but there are said to be no alarming symptoms. He is asked to keep quiet for a week or more. He is at his Study Point farm, but will not be able to take his usual interest in the Newport horse show at the Casino.

RE-ELECTION IS EASILY WON BY ENGLEBRIGHT

Congressman Englebright.

Congressman Englebright was elected to Congress in 1906 and re-elected in 1908. His constituents feel that he is the right man in the right place. He is a man of high standing in the House of Representatives, having been appointed to a number of important committees, among them being those on naval affairs, mines and mining and irrigation of arid lands, all of which are of the greatest importance to the welfare of California. He defeated his opponent, Judge J. R. Chidie, at the primary Tuesday, by a majority of 2410.

Latest Figures for Railroad Districts
And Equalizers

The returns of the vote for Republican candidates for railroad commissioners and members of the state board of equalization are incomplete, with the exception of the first equalization dist. 1, which consists of the city and county of San Francisco only. The latest figures today show:

Dirigible Balloon Will Try for World's Record

A dirigible balloon ascension fancy rifle shooting and last, but not least a bucking buffalo, are the latest attractions to the already crowded program for the Fiesta of the Dawn of Gold. The contract for the exhibition with a dirigible, the largest in the United States, was signed today with the United States. It is agreed to stay in the air at least three-quarters of an hour and to return to the starting point. He will also try for the world's altitude record and if he succeeds will receive a special prize.

Adolph Töpperwien and will give exhibitions of fancy shooting with rifles shot-guns and revolvers. To prove he is a champion in his class, and his ability to hold his own against the world's champion, he is probably the greatest rifle shot in the country today. Mrs. Töpperwien is the champion lady rifle champion in the world and the peer of most champions of the sterner sex.

The bucking buffalo is a rare addition to the Frontier Days show. In addition to making it interesting for any venturesome cowboy who assays to ride him, he will be seen in harness with a mate, and races with cow ponies.

Democrats Will Fix
Date for Convention

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—The Democratic state central committee is moving its headquarters from the Hotel Argonaut to the fourth floor of the Crocker building, preliminary to making the state convention.

Circus Robert de Witte expressed the opinion yesterday that the convention will not be formally opened until the holding of the county convention in this city on the evening of August 23.

Theodore A. Bell, Democratic nominee for governor, has gone East to the grand lodges of Eagles and gone to other important affairs.

Harry Flannery was given the advisory vote of this city for United States senator.

Plans for Welcoming Western Pacific Announced

DETAILS FOR CELEBRATION FINISHED BY COMMITTEE

Thousand Whistles to Screech Good Wishes of Alameda County.

HUNDREDS OF AUTOS TO TAKE PART IN PARADE

The Arrival of First Train Will Mark Red Letter Day for This City.

that replies had been received from 110 firms to letters sent, and that all had agreed to take part. Many of these firms will have from one to five decorated wagons, drays and autos, and the committee counts on total of three hundred vehicles being in line.

ALL ARE ENTHUSIASTIC.

The merchants and manufacturers of Oakland have grown enthusiastic about the celebration and have all joined in heartily and co-operated with the committee.

It was announced last night that arrangements had been made to have the schools of the city closed at 8 o'clock Monday in order to allow the pupils an opportunity of viewing the parade.

Wells Drury, secretary of the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce, who was present last night, announced that the college city wished to participate in the celebration and that a division would be sent to Oakland to take part in the parade.

A suggestion was received from A. C. Pillsbury that he be allowed to take pictures of the parade as it moves, these to be made into films for moving picture shows. This suggestion was immediately accepted, all present believing that it would not only be a boost for the road, but for Oakland as well.

Walter Mackay, president of the Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the general committee, presided at the meeting last night. He said that it was probable that many firms who would wish to participate had so far not sent in their entries. It is the wish of the committee to avoid having advertising schemes and devices trailing along at the end of the parade, and Mackay said it had been decided that all who wished to take part must send their names and number of vehicles they will enter to the grand marshal by Monday morning.

INSTRUCTIONS TO DIVISIONS.

That all concerned might be fully informed relative to the parade, it is devolved upon the grand marshal to make the following announcements:

Marshals of divisions and aides will report, mounted, to the chief of staff at 8 p. m. at the junction of Broadway and Telegraph avenue.

The various divisions are directed to be in their assigned positions at 3 o'clock p. m. Marshals of divisions will report promptly to the chief of staff through an aide when their divisions are formed. The order to advance will be given at 3:45 p. m. sharp. Organizations not prepared to move at that time will fall in on the left of line.

Headquarters of the grand marshal during the formation will be at the junction of Broadway and Telegraph avenue.

ROUTE OF PARADE.

The line of march will be from the junction of Telegraph avenue and Broadway, along Broadway to Fourteenth, to Washington, to Second, to Broadway, to junction of Broadway and Telegraph avenue. The reviewing stand will be at the junction of Telegraph avenue and Broadway.

REGALIA TO BE WORN.

Grand marshal—Gold sash, gold trimmings.

Chief of staff—Red, white and blue sash, gold trimmings.

Chief aide—White sash, gold trimmings.

Special aides—Blue and white sash, gold trimmings.

Marshals of divisions—Scarlet sash, gold trimmings.

Western Pacific Train Leaves Utah City Amid Cheering of Populace

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 20.—With a shout of whistles and clarets of bells, the first train of the Western Pacific, bound from this city for Oakland, drove out of the magnificently new $500,000 station here early this morning, while the throng that had gathered to wish it Godspeed shouted themselves hoarse.

Salt Lake has been a busy city during the last week. There has been a session of governors of the Pacific Coast and Rocky Mountain states meeting here, and all have been interested in the doings of the body. But despite this fact Salt Lake City has found plenty of time to pay attention to the railroads and to the welcome the visitors. Officials of the Western Pacific and the newspapermen who have come to the city for the purpose of passing over the line on the first special to the Pacific Coast.

EVERY ONE WEARS BUTTON

The result is that every coat is decorated with a button boasting San Francisco as the proper city in which to hold the great Panama-Pacific Exposition, and today Salt Lake is one of the staunchest supporters of the Coast city in its ambition.

Early this morning a special coach drew into the city from Chicago. About 100 men representing all sections of eastern roads, newspapermen from Chicago and other parts of the East, all guests of the Western Pacific, and who came here at the invitation of the road to accompany the special to the coast. This special was switched on the first train and the new arrivals were greeted with open arms by those from the West who will come here as delegates.

As the special speeded westward it was cheered at different points along the line by representatives of the press and officials of the Western Pacific and other lines, who were unable to come to Salt Lake City, but who wish to join the great Pacific coast and go as far as Oakland with it.

PHOTOGRAPH TRAIN.

Arrangements have been made to take a number of photographs of the engine as it passes under the arch, but following this the crowds of spectators will be given the freedom of the street and of the new Western Pacific depot.

It is probable that the immediate tracks of the railroad will be wired off for several sections between Washington and Broadway, but the people will be allowed the freedom of the street to witness the arrival of the train and to listen to the addresses from the speakers' platform that has been erected.

The city hall was this morning decorated with flags and bunting in celebration of the event, and the big flag will be raised on the big flag pole at Telegraph avenue and Broadway, at which there are increased prosperity for the city, a steadily growing population, additional buildings, and, in fact, everything that goes toward the upbuilding of a city.

The coming of the new road makes all these things possible, they say, and consequently they are delighted with the opportunity to do all in their power toward boosting the new line.

It was after 1 p. m. yesterday when the special arrived, with every member of the Press Club of Salt Lake City gathered at the new union depot to welcome the party. Invitations had been received while the special train was still in Nevada to a luncheon at the Commercial Club, an organ recital at the tabernacle, and a trip up Emigration canyon, the historic way by which the Mormon pioneers came over the Wasatch range to this land. It was too late for the luncheon, but through the efforts of the Salt Lake press representatives, a special organ recital was given shortly after 2 o'clock.

TRIP THROUGH CANYON.

Following the recital in the tabernacle a special car was taken through the principal business streets, then the residential section of the city. Then a special car was ready to take up the Emigration canyon. Kenneth C. Kerr, editor and owner of the Salt Lake Tribune, and president of the Press Club, acted as escort and the newspapermen and the railroad officials were taken into an altitude of more than 8000 feet through one of the most beautiful canyons in the west. It was through this canyon that the first Missouri party passed on its way west and in the great valley of the Salt Lake.

Following the afternoon a special train from Colorado in charge of Major S. K. Moore, general passenger agent of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad, arrived in the city and the car was attached to the special, while it left the morning at 7 o'clock. In the party are Frank Fearn, Rocky Mountain News; Fred Denyer, Republican; F. L. Webster, Denver Post; William Sully, Herald-Dispatch, Colorado Springs; A. S. Andrews, Pueblo Chieftain.

NEW MEMBERS OF PARTY.

From this city the following representatives of the Utah parties headed the special and are now journeying to Oakland.

W. J. Stoen, Salt Lake Telegram.

Keneth Kerr, Salt Lake Tribune.

Arthur Brown, Salt Lake Herald-Republican.

J. W. Ilvde, Desert News.

Edward Charlton, Rocky Mountain News of Denver, and Frank Francis, Order Standard.

A yell was adopted by the correspondents gathered. L. L. Lomax has been voted the most popular man on the train, and the yell is for the purpose of boosting him. It was practiced at a small station near the Nevada-Utah state line, and several of the natives thought that a wild man had secured admission to the palatial special. When the newspapermen descended from the train here this morning they formed a circle and yelled at the top of their lungs.

BLOODCURDLING YELL.

"Wow! Wow! Wow! Wow! Western Pacific! Panama fair! California!

"Wow! w-w-w-w-w-

The Earl, a newspaper opened their arms when they heard the call and in less than three minutes every man within a block of the depot was wearing a Panama-Pacific button.

Salt Lake City's new union depot, which is about completed and which will be thrown open to the traveling public August 22, was pronounced by the visiting newsmen to be one of the handsomest buildings of the class in the west.

The new depot, which will be used by the Western Pacific and the Denver and Rio Grande, and which cost $75,000, ranks architecturally and from a working standpoint with any of the large union stations constructed throughout the United States in recent years. The building stands south of Third street and occupies a space 1402 feet in length by 320 feet in width.

It is one of the most thoroughfares of the city and has an immense approach around. The interior is treated in an adaptation of a classic style of architecture similar to the exterior, the color scheme being brown, red and gray for the walls with a deep brown for the ceiling.

INSURGENT IN STATE ONLY.

A. J. Wallace declared today that Johnson did not stand for insurGENCY on national issues, having won away from the regulars on State issues only.

"The members of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League have been referred to as insurgents, but they are not insurgents,

but they are not insurgents,

but they are not insurgents,

but they are not insurgents,

but they are not insurgents,

but they are not insurgents,

but they are not insurgents,

but they are not insurgents,

but they are not insurgents,

but they are not insurgents,

but they are not insurgents,

Revival of 'Squatting.'

"Squatting" on private or public land, which in the early and semi-lawless condition of the State was a common practice, but which was supposed to have been entirely a thing of the past, has seemingly been revived in these later days on this side of the bay. Up to the later seventies the professional "squatter" made San Francisco the field of his operations. The history of that city for the first thirty years of its existence was one in which "squatter" warfare cast a conspicuous figure.

For the past thirty years or so the "squatter" has been almost unknown in this State, for property rights have become well established and the administration of law a fixed quantity. The possibility of the revival of "squatting" seemed to be too remote to be considered. But it took root, strange to say, of late years, on the banks of the tidal canal joining Oakland harbor and the San Leandro bay. The Federal government tolerated the occupancy of a strip of land which it possesses by the acre dwellers which Oakland harbor improvements had crowded from its shores where, before wharf improvements were started, these vagrants of the tidal waters had moored their dwellings, paying tribute to no one. The Alameda acre dwellers abused the tolerance of the Federal government by jumping its own lands and taking possession of private and public property and thereby blocking for a time the right of way of the Southern Pacific Company for its electric railway system. Their obstructive tactics were not overcome until after much time, trouble and expense. The notice to abandon the occupation of the banks of the tidal canal has been ignored and the acre dwellers are still in unlawful possession. It may yet need the employment of the United States army to dispossess them.

But Oakland seems to be the theater of the revival of the "squatter" in these days in the person of a peddler and his wife who have taken possession of a public street crossing in East Oakland and are defying the authorities to remove them. They have been arrested for violating the law prohibiting the obstruction of a public street after months of effort on the part of the authorities to remove them. The situation seems incredible, for the city authorities have the undoubted right to remove anything obstructing the free use of a public street without regard to any adverse claim which may be set up against the public rights to the thoroughfare. The erection of a shack on a public street by a would-be "squatter" has no more claim for consideration on the part of the municipal authorities than the dumping of an ash barrel on the streets as means of establishing a private interest in the property it covers, and the shack trespassing on the street should be removed without any more ceremony than would be exhibited in the removal of the ash barrel. In fact, the erection of the "squatter's" shack should never have been permitted. Some one in authority has been neglectful of duty in allowing the street obstruction to become an issue in the courts.

The peculiar and revolutionary workings of "the recall" is aptly illustrated in the neighboring town of Richmond, where a petition started by one man secured the necessary 15 per cent of signatures of voters voting at the last town election for the recall of six of the nine Councilmen for voting to remove the City Engineer. The Council refused the petition to call an election and the case has been carried into court, and it is likely to be carried up to the Supreme Court on appeal, as Judge Ruckles has overruled the demurrer filed by the Council. The Richmond case illustrates more conspicuously than any other recall case which has been instituted in this State how completely the power to destroy representative government and majority rule is placed in the hands of those constituting the minority under a proviso that requires less than 51 per cent of the total vote of the regular election to make a recall regular and effective.

Oakland on Top Once More.

Oakland stands again second this week in the percentage of gain in its bank clearings as compared with the corresponding period last year in the Bradstreet list of the clearing-houses of the United States. The premier position in percentage of gain is held this week by Springfield, Ohio, which with a total clearings of only $716,000, is credited with 63.1 per cent gain over last year's record. Oakland's bank clearings for the week amounted to $2,776,000, and its gain 47.7 per cent. Other Pacific Coast cities showing percentages of gain are as follows: San Francisco, 6.5 per cent; Portland, Oregon, 30.9 per cent; Tacoma, 4.6 per cent; Spokane, 6.7 per cent; Sacramento, 14.5 per cent. The following Pacific Coast cities show losses in the comparison with the same week last year: Los Angeles, 37 per cent; Seattle, 7.5 per cent; Salt Lake City, 25.1 per cent. Regarding all of the California cities, including Oakland, the fact should not be overlooked that one day was cut out of the past week's banking records, as on primary election day the banks were closed and business was very generally suspended. Had the record of the bank clearings shown a full five and one-half days' business Oakland's percentage of gain would have undoubtedly stood at the head of Bradstreet's list of the clearing-house cities of the country.

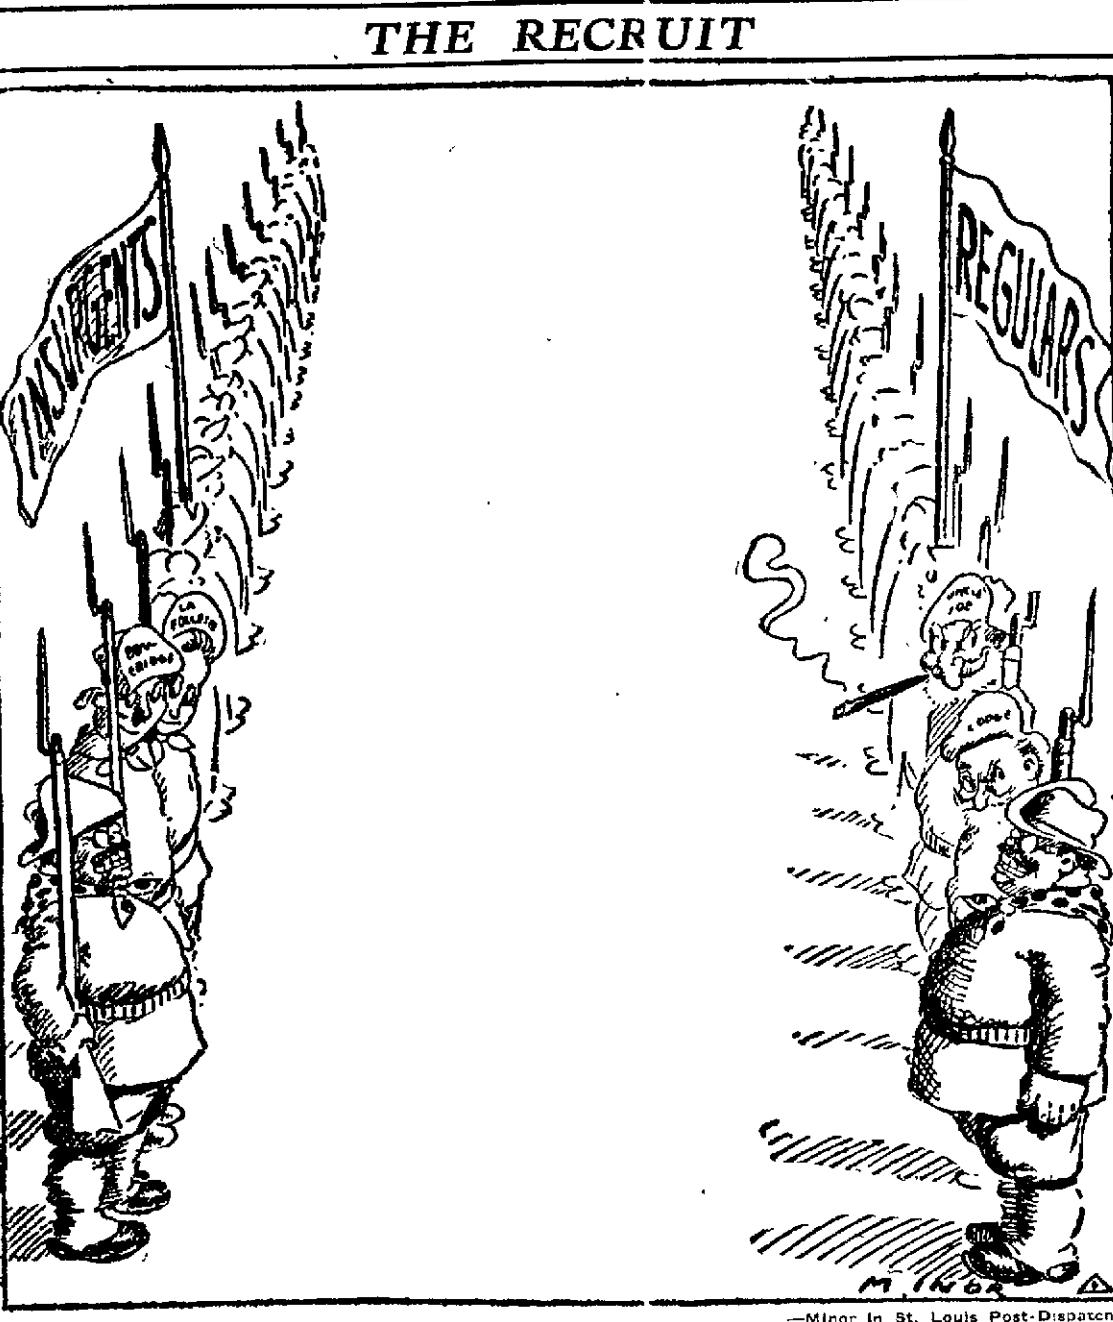

The fact that the Associated Oil Company is about to erect an extensive plant for the storage and distribution of fuel oil at Nome for use in the mines in that district illustrates how the market for the California product is expanding. California crude and refined petroleum is now being exported to all points in and bordering on the Pacific ocean and to Europe, Great Britain and Atlantic ports.

The tapping of an oil-bearing stratum near Petaluma and the discovery of a high grade gold-bearing ledge within that city's limits may yet convert the banner poultry and egg-producing district of the State into a productive mining camp. Who knows? California is a land of never-ending surprises.

Paying the Penalty of Uncleanliness.

Russia is today paying the penalty of the violation of the law of cleanliness by its people and the neglect of its municipal officials of the common sense laws of public sanitation. The tale of the spreading of the cholera epidemic and the appalling ravages of the disease is told with indisputable fidelity in the week's record of 28,944 new cases and 10,723 deaths from it in the empire proper, bringing the total number of cases in the year to 112,985 and the mortality to 50,287.

A Asiatic cholera is notoriously a filthy disease, and Russians are notoriously uncleanly in their personal habits and indifferent to community sanitation. With Asiatic cholera raging within its confines Russia is, therefore, today a menace to Europe and, in fact, to all nations having commercial intercourse with her. The United States is specially menaced now, because the persecuted Jews of Russia have been migrating by thousands to this country of late years to secure in it an asylum where they can escape from racial oppression and enjoy religious freedom. But the conditions now existing in Russia make it imperative that we close our ports against all immigrants from that plague-ridden country and to all commerce which may carry with it the deadly germs of cholera. Self-preservation is the first law of nature, and it applies to nations as well as to individuals. We cannot afford to run any risk of cholera infection.

Great Britain is modernizing her navy at a great rate. On August 6 the fifteenth ship of the Dreadnought class was launched at Davenport. It is only five or six years since the first of the class was launched.

Witchcraft in the Philippines

That a firm belief in witchcraft persists in some parts of Pampanga province is the purport of a communication received in Manila from an investigator, who has investigated the claims of Full-pun that they were being afflicted with various bodily ills by persons who are called Magcalums, according to the Manila Times. While the educated inhabitants scoff at the belief, it was found to be widespread throughout the towns as well as in the agricultural sections far from large centers of population. Extracts from the communication follow: "The belief is an old one, probably co-existent with the tribes. It is not confined to one or two towns, but extends to a greater or less degree in all, though the idea probably is having a greater hold upon the people of Lubao, Macabebe and Masantol than any of the other municipalities.

The belief is that a person who has this power can create illness in another, provided the other is a believer in Magcalums. A careful and extended search has failed to produce a single Pampangan who impresses the investigator as being entirely free from the idea that people might have this power. Many laugh at the mention of such a power and in a general way say that they do not consider it possible, yet references to specific cases will usually elicit the fact that they can ascribe no other cause to certain effects.

"It would seem that the tender spot of these near divinities is the neck of the intended victim, the Magcalums causing an enlargement of that part of the body. Sometimes the infliction is related to a specific event. For instance, in Arayat a woman once told a prospective purchaser that she had no eggs whch the customer found out to be false. Later it was said that a chicken grew inside the stomach of the woman. Another account is of a Magcalum who was bound and an attempt made to burn holes in her face. The instruments made no impression upon her, but the marks of burns appeared upon the face of the woman who had instigated the maltreatment."—Chicago News.

STORIES ABOUT PEOPLE

Since his disappearance, twenty years ago, there have never been so many stories about Johann Orth—Ard Duke John—have been circulated since his death has been officially declared. The eccentric nobleman's name has been added to the list of "mysterious persons," among whom the son of Marie Antoinette and "the man in the iron mask" will always be conspicuous. "The latest story about Orth," says the "Tribute," "comes to the public through one Ernesto Denarius, a merchant, who says that in 1894, two years after Orth's ship, the St. Margarete went down, he met Orth at Buenos Ayres. He met the voluntary royal exile at a theater when he was introduced to him as Mr. Caballero. These stories will continue to come to us from now on in great numbers, and there will be some believers for every one, and finally Orth's place with the Louis XVII class will be assured."

Under the heading, "Romance of a 10-cent Ad," the "Bangler News" tells of a Maine man who through the investment of a dime found a woman described as being a fine cook, a neat housekeeper, good looking, affectionate and willing to marry him. He had a lot of answers but followed on the first letter he opened and the news says he is glad of it.

An army officer, who had been in Panama recently, tells this story of Laurent Roquebert, who was general foreman of dredging at the Pacific entrance to the canal for twenty years. He went to the Isthmus under the old French company, and has remained on the job ever since. A short time ago he was badly crushed in one of the dredges, and lay in a critical condition in the Ancón Hospital. One of the engineers went to see him.

"How many yards?" said the injured man feebly, referring to the dredging account for the month. When told that they had taken out more cubic yards than in any previous month, he smiled and said, "It's all wrong." Having delivered himself of this opinion, the man waded away. The argument was put before Mr. Remington when the examining was over, but he would not commit himself as to his opinion on the subject.

A Houlton mathematician has been devoting a few spare minutes figuring out the growth of potatoes. It is predicted that Aroostook's potato crop this season will be 12,000,000 bushels and it is assumed that it takes one hundred days for a potato to mature. ## GOSSIP FROM SAN FRANCISCO WEEKLIES

The Problem of Race Suicide.

Health Officer McNutt, in presenting his official report to the Board of Health a few days ago, gave emphatic warning that race suicide is a living or rather a dead problem in San Francisco. In his own words, "San Francisco, the healthiest and most prosperous city in the country is affected by the same disease that has gripped the civilization of France." True—but are we not the Paris of America, with a special privilege in that direction? At any rate, it is well that we find authorization for our deeds. No one regrets more than Californians that we have not a sufficiency of babies, but since the Western woman seems to object to them, and she is all we have—well—one must be satisfied with her. Having interceded strenuously in these columns for the baby on more than one occasion, we propose henceforth to leave him to his fate. There have been times, quite often, when we felt that we would much rather not have been born ourselves. Then, since the habit of not being born originated in Paris—well, it would be too bad to ask anything that was unfashionable of the fair sex of this city. And let us not forget that Oyster Bay, the home of the Apostle, has set the example, or rather failed to set it. No wonder the Nebraskans turned down Bryan and county option. With regard to San Francisco, let us hope that it will not turn out so bad that our toy stores will desert us. They present a rather attractive street appearance. Moreover, they induce strangers to believe that there are a few real marriages amongst us. However, we would judge that Health Officer McNutt's opinion is valuable as an opinion.—News Letter

Compliment to the Bohemian Club.

A London correspondent of the New York Times has described a primitive bohemian club which had its existence in London, and by the simplicity of its arrangements considers itself a sort of standing protest against bohemian clubs that thrive in the midst of gorgious appointments, like the aristocratic Savage Club, the exclusive Sette of Old Volantes, the still more exclusive Burling-ton Fine Arts Club and the luxurious and justly famous Bohemian Club of San Francisco. The correspondent of the Times paid a well-deserved compliment to the Bohemian Club of this city, which has so admirably entertained a great number of notable visitors, including Robert Louis Stevenson and Rudyard Kipling. He adds that "even in San Francisco, the town of sunshine and gaiety, music and flowers, the admirable and famous Bohemian Club is now divided into two elements—the painters and writers and musicians, who are for the most part chronically hard up; and the bankers, lawyers and merchants, whose subscriptions keep the club going, provide those luxurious quarters in which visitors to the city of the Golden Gate are entertained with such delightful hospitality, pay for the French chefs, the rare wines, the cigars of choice brands, the specially imported Scotch whiskies, the reading-room containing all the best reviews and magazines." Such is the pen-picture of the Bohemian of San Francisco as limned by the London correspondent of the New York Times. "Some of the old-timers," he says, "regret the days when the club was altogether bohemian and make no secret of their dislike of its present luxuriance. But, all the same, the malcontents have to admit that were it not for the bankers and brokers and lawyers, the club would have disappeared long ago."—The Wasp.

Miss Pomeroy Engaged.

Miss Christine Pomeroy, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Pomeroy, have made formal announcement of her engagement, has been out in society for several seasons, and has been sincerely well-liked ever since her debut. She has traveled a good deal, and spent some time in Washington, where she was entertained by the Roosevelts, who are her relatives. Miss Pomeroy was one of the original members of the Gatsby Club, the most exclusive dancing club we have, and to which Miss Helen Irwin, Tempted Crocker's fiancee, then belonged. The Wilson sisters, now Mrs. George Cadwalader and Mrs. Orville Pratt, were Miss Pomeroy's great friends during her first season in society. Quite recently Miss Pomeroy was visiting in Portland, and was in that city when she met the young man who has been so fortunate as to win her hand. Her fiance is Thomas Scott Brooks, son of the late Lloyd Brooks, and is very prominent socially in Portland. Mr. Pomeroy, father of the bride-to-be, is an attorney-at-law and official of the Supreme Court of California. The Pomeroy live on Clay street in the winter, but have a summer home in San Rafael. The marriage is not to take place until November. Miss Pomeroy is at present visiting her dearest friend, Miss Elizabeth Livermore, at Montes, the Livermore place near St. Helena.—The Wasp.

They Nearly All Smoke.

I make no doubt that if queries on the subject were publicly addressed to most of our society women they would follow the example of Miss Eleanor Sears and deny that they are addicted to the cigarette habit. But such denials need not be taken seriously. Miss Eleanor Sears would never have been as popular as she was with the ladies of Burlingame if she did not have more than a bowing acquaintance with Lady Nicotine. Lady Nicotine may not be in Burke's Peerage but she is exceedingly popular in our most exclusive circles for all that. In fact it is extremely difficult to point out the women in swell society who do not toy with the weed as a regular habit. Those who spend the most time abroad are the most addicted to it, it is thought. Women like Mrs. Francis C. Cullen, Mrs. Peter Martin and Miss Jennie Crocker can appreciate a good cigarette when they inhale its soothing fumes and there is no particular reason why they should not confess the fact. In many other respects they have the courage of their position which allows them to be unconventional, so why not in this also?—Town Talk.

Advertising Your Pedigree.

The new style of putting one's pedigree on the back of a visiting card is meeting with favor amongst some of the exclusive local society. A prominent lady, whom we will call Mrs. Blank, who has been summering at Santa Barbara, adopted the fashion. A young San Franciscan saw fit to criticize it. This brought forth a retort which has set the tongues wagging from Santa Barbara to San Francisco. Mrs. Blank gave a delightful luncheon and invited many friends. At the conclusion of the affair he said: "Mrs. Newrich of San Francisco has seen fit to ask who I am and what family tree I can boast of. I shall tell you, my friends" (which she did) "and I shall supplement it with a brief sketch of Mrs. Newrich's pedigree and the exploits of her family up to date" which she also did. Inasmuch as some of these exploits finished whole paper of reading for the yellowest newspaper of San Francisco a few years ago the interesting guests did not fall asleep during the recital.—The Wasp.

Walter Magee, Motorist.

The mysterious injuries from which Walter Magee is suffering in a Los Angeles hospital were probably due to some automobile accident the details of which were carefully kept from the newspapers. Before Walter's reckless dissipation led to his exile from this city—an exile to which his brothers are said to have persuaded him by financial arguments—he was noted for his motormania. Which reminds me of a story. One night he ran over a woman in this city and she was taken to the hospital with severe injuries. Next day a millionaire called on the woman at the hospital, announced himself as the son of a multimillionaire, and asked the woman if she intended to seek damages. She replied that she would demand $500, through the court if need be. She was then told that if she sued Magee great wealth would be used to fight the case. Whereupon she showed her business sense by replying: "Oh, if Mr. Magee has so much money behind him I'll sue for $5000." And she did. Magee voted his friend a mighty poor diplomat.—Town Talk.

Burlingame's French Bride.

The young French bride who is Miss Vera de Sable's constant companion, is the nine days' wonder of Burlingame. When the gallant and well-endowed young Frenchman, who had been considered a desirable pair by designing Americans as well as French mammas, returned to his native land for a bride, there was a general autopsy on the reasons for so doing. "No wonder he went over and married a girl right out of a convent," wailed the American mamma, who had exerted herself in vehement fashion to annex the Frenchman to the family. "I have begged you to conduct yourself differently," she scolded the daughter. "You come in from the tennis court looking like an ostrich, and the French admire the exquisite feminine type—but you, you always, let him see you in outing toga with mussed hair and shiny nose. Your aptitude for language is confined entirely to a wonderful facility for slang, and the French, with their exquisite feeling for language and their reverence for diction, detect argot coming from a young girl."

"Of course I was not present when the foregoing sentiments, called tirades by the daughter, were delivered. But since the arrival of the bride, the daughter has been quoting the mother against herself, and the taunts cackle with mirth.

Mrs. Belmont Sells Property.

Being a suffragette evidently costs something. Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont has sold Belmont Park, her Hot Springs, Va., estate for about $25,000. Her late husband had planned to make the place another exclusive society colony like Tuxedo, and it was supposed that his widow would carry out his desire. But Mrs. Belmont has gone very deeply into the cause of freeing women from the shackles of man by giving her the franchise, and to espouse such noble causes is sometimes very expensive. Other leaders, from St. Louis of France to enemies of municipal graft, have found crusades expensive, therefore it is not surprising that Mrs. Belmont is minus her Hot Springs estate. The place was bought by Mrs. Mumford, a Washington lady who prefers to entertain house parties rather than speak in meeting on the rights of her sex. Mrs. Belmont has a quarter of a million more to lay out on suffragette literature.—The Wasp.

Gladstone Boosted Her Into Favor.

Mrs. Humphrey Ward is going in for philanthropic work these days when not turning out a new novel. She is now worthily regarded as the best woman novelist of the day, though perhaps not wholly meriting the title. "Second George Eliot," which some have called her. Probably had not Gladstone written a special review of her first novel, "Robert Elmers," she would never have been emboldened to proceed to her present great height of popularity. Not because the book was not a good one, for it was, and is still, though readers do not care so much about religious controversies nowadays as they do about psychological problems. But when "Robert Elmers" was placed on the book market it created a great stir, and Gladstone's special review no doubt more than helped its popularity. Mrs. Ward was 30 years or over when she wrote "Robert Elmers." She followed this with "Miss Brether-ton," supposed to be the story of Mary Anderson, and which was probably written before the more pretentious effort preceded it in publication. Her "Marriage à la Mode," the result of observations in America, was lately under wide discussion, and her new novel of Canadian life is attracting attention now.—The Wasp.

A Titled Tradeswoman.

Lady Angela Forbes, a sister of the Duchess of Sutherland, has opened a flower store on George street, Portsmouth, London, under the sign "Mrs. St. George." She dresses the window every morning and attends to sales herself. Flowers are sent from the Duchess' hot-houses and gardens at Trentham in Staffordshire. One can now have a button-hole bouquet made by a Duchess' sister for sixpence.—The Wasp.

"Merry Widow" Dance Proves Serious.

A "Merry Widow" dancing step failed to cause entire merriment in the hospital household of Mrs. J. Dodridge Peet at Reno. In attempting the instruction of the new step to one of her guests the hostess, who was acting as teacher, fell heavily to the floor. She is said to be still in bed on account of the accident. Mrs. Peet was in San Francisco on more than one occasion, and is noted for her originality and charm. She was Miss Freda March, prominent in Pittsburgh and Boston society, before she married Edward Thaw, half-brother of Harry Thaw. She divorced Thaw five years ago, and five weeks after her divorce was granted she married Peet, a New York clubman, whose father had just died and left him $50,000. The second wedding of the Pittsburgh-Boston society woman was a very quiet affair, and would scarcely have been known—as some of these exploits finished whole paper of reading for the yellowest newspaper of San Francisco a few years ago the interesting guests did not fall asleep during the recital.—The Wasp.

A New Theory of Genius.

It was an old-fashioned poet who remarked that "great wits are sure to madness near allied," but it is a woman of today who declares that all who have spinal complaints are brilliant. Mrs. Mighels instances in support of this curious theory Oscar Wilde and Jack London. That Jack London suffers from spinal disease is news to me and I take the liberty of doubting the accuracy of the statement. It is true that Oscar Wilde died of meningitis but his disease was cerebral and not spinal and besides it attacked him at a time when his literary work was completed. ## GORDON PROMOTED TO GENERAL AGENT

San Franciscan Is Given High Office by Sunset Route People.

SACRAMENTO Aug 20 — If Dr. C. Van Liew, president of the Chico State Normal School does not resign he will be removed and a new head appointed to the institution probably when the Normal School Board of trustees meets next Friday. This was decided at a meeting of the board in the office of Governor Gillett yesterday afternoon after a discussion lasting more than an hour and a half when the testimony and evidence in the recent investigation brought after charges had been preferred by Miss Ada Clark of Amador, Yolo counts, that Van Liew had tried to hug her in his office, and others charging unprofessional conduct were reviewed. Not only was the dark case taken up but Governor Gillett presented other charges he has in which Van Liew's character is assailed. This action followed closely upon the acquittal July 28 last of Van Liew of charges mentioned by Governor Gillett when he called for an investigation. Van Liew was acquitted by the votes of Trustees Clifford Coggins, E. A. Warren and J. F. Campbell. Florence J. O'Brien and Edward Hyatt voted to sustain the charges.

VAN LIEW MUST RESIGN OR BE OUSTED AT ONCE

which the question of resignation will be the chief topic.

WILL NOT RESIGN.

SACRAMENTO Aug 20 — "I will resign under no circumstances. If Governor Gillett wishes to get me out of his office he will have to remove me."

Dr. C. C. Van Liew, president of the Chico State Normal School, says he will not resign, but will do so if threatened.

He was summoned to the office of Governor Gillett yesterday afternoon after a discussion lasting more than an hour and a half when the testimony and evidence in the recent investigation brought after charges had been preferred by Miss Ada Clark of Amador, Yolo counts, that Van Liew had tried to hug her in his office, and others charging unprofessional conduct were reviewed. Not only was the dark case taken up but Governor Gillett presented other charges he has in which Van Liew's character is assailed. This action followed closely upon the acquittal July 28 last of Van Liew of charges mentioned by Governor Gillett when he called for an investigation. Van Liew was acquitted by the votes of Trustees Clifford Coggins, E. A. Warren and J. F. Campbell. Florence J. O'Brien and Edward Hyatt voted to sustain the charges.

RUTHERFORD IN VACANCY

Upon the death of Trustee Warren when one of Van Liew's supporters north after he was acquitted the Governor appointed Frank M. Rutherford of Rocklin to fill the vacancy and his first appearance at a meeting of the board was that of yesterday. It was given to him that the meeting was for the purpose of having Rutherford meet his associates that there would be a general discussion on several matters of importance to the school. Trustee Campbell was not present on account of illness but Rutherford met the others and took an active part in the discussions.

Those present were Governor Gillett, Secretary Florence J. O'Brien, Clifford Coggins, Edward Hyatt and the new member, Frank M. Rutherford. General Webb was not present but he happened to be in the Governor's office when the other trustees came as Governor Gillett was asking legal advice upon certain matters relative to the proposed extra session of the Legislature.

While there was no definite action taken and the trustees did not organize for the transaction of business there was a lively session for more than an hour and a half. The discussion waxed warm and all of the trustees present participated.

Trustee Coggins was shown where Van Liew stood as far as the other members of the board are concerned and his exuberance was the reason for the calling of the meeting. Coggins was given to understand that if Van Liew did not resign he would be removed and as Coggins is the staunch friend of Van Liew and has been directing the president's movements in the meetings it looks as though he will have to have a talk with Van Liew in

SYNAGOGUE PLANS FOR ANNIVERSARY

Beth Israel Congregation Will Observe Fiftieth Year of Formation.

SACRAMENTO Aug 20 — Beth Israel congregation observed its fiftieth anniversary this morning in the synagogue, on Geary street and observances will continue tomorrow when rabbits from both sides of the bay will take part in the services. Rev. Dr. M. F. Friedlander, rabbi of the First Hebrew Congregation, of Oakland, and Rev. Dr. A. Goldsmith Cohen of the Tree of Life Synagogue of Pittsburg will assist the celebrant. Rev. M. B. Levy will conduct the services. For the last twenty years Dr. Levy has been the rabbi of that congregation and has made an excellent record.

The text for Rev. Dr. Levy's sermon this morning will be "And Ye Shall Sanctify the Fiftieth Year." The organization of Beth Israel Synagogue was perfected Aug. 19, 1860 and since its institution it has represented Jewish orthodoxy in all its forms of worship.

THE MEDDLER

MRS. EDWIN NOURSE, formerly Miss Ray Tyler, whose marriage was solemnized Wednesday evening.

HERE are many reasons why the rich woman stands for so much that is best in modern civilization. There was a time in the early history of our country when the woman prominent socially was apt to be considered of the butterfly type. That is no longer true. In every line of philanthropy it is the rich woman who is bravely leading the way. Her noble influence is felt in every avenue leading along lines of advance. The arts and sciences owe much to her generous endowments, and human life everywhere is the better for her efforts. Of course, she is better educated now than she used to be—all women are—and a wise discretion controls her generous impulses. And social life is much the better for woman's growing independence, and for her better intellectual equipment.

We are living in the heart of mid-summer days, and it is interesting to note social conditions everywhere. At Newport, everyone is talking of the pronounced change in its social life. One reads that "it has settled down to a state of quiet elegance, with a noted absence of all spectacular social flurries."

Entertaining is carried on now upon a much less lavish scale than heretofore. There are practically no leaders this season, and that means the absence of much which has heretofore been sensational."

MR. AND MRS. SMITH AT SHELTER ISLAND.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Smith, with their children and Miss Speir, are still at Shelter Island, where they are enjoying a restful summer. The family were greatly frightened while crossing the Atlantic in the Baltic, which was run into by a schooner, and Mrs. Smith was ill for some time from the terrifying experience. There is also much yachting at Shelter Island, and Pres de Jeau (near the water), has a very good anchorage.

The Smiths were guests at the Prospect House on Shelter Island recently for the minstrel show there.

It is an annual event and one reads of it:

"The waiters of the Prospect House gave their annual minstrel show and cake walk last night. Incidentally society folk from miles around came to see the fun, and they did not go away disappointed. Every year the wait for this show, and if ever during the balance of the season they need a laugh they just recall it to memory."

The romance feature at this resort has reached such a point that those who have passed the courtship stage have organized the Engaged Club."

The Smiths are planning to return to California in September, and will open Arbor Villa, their East Oakland home, for the winter.

WHAT ATHLETICS DO FOR WOMEN.

Athletics and the gymnasium have done much for the modern woman, for plenty of outdoor air and exercise is conducive to a normal view of conditions generally. It is quite remarkable the number of women who manage to spend time each day in some form of strenuous activities. Many well-known women drive a motor car extremely well. Mrs. Wm. Thornton White manages a fast motor car very well indeed, and one often sees her with Miss Thomson, or some other young girl friend, skilfully handling her car. Mrs. Albert Elliott drives a big motor car, and she has taken it safely over difficult mountain roads.

Beautiful Mrs. Wickham Havens was among the first of the younger matrons to essay driving a motor car, and she used to manage the big touring automobiles exceedingly well. Mrs. Havens planned interesting dancing classes for herself and her friends, and she plays tennis also very well indeed. On the Havens grounds at Piedmont, there is a fine tennis court, and Wickham Havens and Edward Engs play an exceedingly good game. Their friends are welcome on the tennis court on any holiday, and after a strenuous game, there is a delightful luncheon, planned under the special direction of Mrs. Havens, who finds time to develop a lovely, attractive home in the midst of many social duties.

One of the leading tennis players in the United States today is Hazel Hotchkiss of the University of California, and there are experts who say she outranks May Sutton, the girl from Southern California, who carried all before her on tennis lines, until she met Hazel Hotchkiss.

Mrs. Leon Bocquetaz (Clare Chatbot) and Mrs. J. P. Dunn are easily the equestriennes on our side of the bay, and they make the most attractive pictures, and the expert golf players over here are Mrs. P. E. Howles, Mrs. William Pierce Johnson, Miss Alice Knowles, Miss Josephine Johnson, Miss Ruth Kales and Miss Sherwood.

Some of our well known women know how to swim very well indeed, and summer and autumn afternoons one may see them practicing in the Alameda baths. With salt water at one's door, and the inspiration of Orpheum artists now and then, it is only a wonder that more prominent women interested in athletics, do not recognize the value of swimming among those who have become expert swimmers are Mrs. Charles H. Lowe, Miss Florence Farde, Miss Anita Thomson, Mrs. Edward de Iaveaga and Miss Harry Taylor.

In the East this year, picturesque walking tours, through the Adirondacks have been planned, and on the tramps women have held their own easily.

The fad of outdoor sleeping has reached such proportions that it may no longer be dubbed a "fad," but a sane realization of the benefits derived from such communion with nature. Some women take to tents, while others scorn even khaki or duck walls, and, rolling themselves up in their sleeping bags and blankets, with boughs for pillows, drop off to sleep under the stars.

Two new singers are attracting attention in the Bayani Opera Company, Miss Anne Tully and Miss Lucy Van de Mark. They have both exceedingly tired perhaps, but minus the surplus pounds that were her despair.

FREE KINDERGARTEN FETE PLANS.

The preparations for the free kindergarten fete (to be held September 3 at Piedmont Park) are being pushed with interest by the many workers of the different boards. While the history of the work is like the good old-fashioned stories, "to be continued in our next," a hint might be given of the fascinating dances, monologues and music in store for the audience, to say nothing of the baby show, with the beautiful girls' readiness.

Among the young women who are making the annual fete this year are

Mrs. Thea C. P. Mrs. Hazel Merritt Mrs. Diane H. Mrs. Margaret Mrs. W. G. Palmer Mrs. Taylor Mrs. Murray Johnson Mrs. E. B. Beck Mrs. W. G. Congan Mrs. Anna Parcells Mrs. Henry Pittman Mrs. J. R. Stepham Mrs. Joseph Gist Mrs. H. E. Frick Mrs. J. T. Wright Mrs. Eva Powell Mrs. C. O. Brown Mrs. Adeline Blood Mrs. Morton Fox Mrs. Maude Collier Mrs. F. M. Held Mrs. Ilma Chase

The Kindergarten Fete represents one of the leading days each year in the social history of Oakland. Each patroness asks as many of her girl friends as she knows to help her, and sweet and very pretty girls are to be found at all the booths. In dainty gowns and becoming hats they are very picturesque, and there is nothing like youthful enthusiasm to bring brightness to social events. Everybody goes to the fete, everybody meets their friends, and it is a great day for the children. And in all California there could be no more beautiful place for a fete than in lovely Piedmont Park, in the rolling hills of the lower Co. St. Range.

OPERA AT IDORA DRAWNS SOCIETY PEOPLE.

Some of our well known women have had many compensations this year for those who have remained in town. And, indeed, one does not have to go to Europe this year to hear some of the finest opera singing of the season. It is here, at our own door, at picturesque Idora Park, brought to us by that splendid Bayani Opera Company. It speaks well for us that from all about the bay people have flocked to Idora Park, and critics are enthusiastic in their support of the company.

Music lovers will not soon forget the lovely rendition of "Martha," given by the opera company, and the beautiful solo, "The Last Rose of Summer," has left a haunting memory of exquisite sweetness.

Among those at Idora Tuesday night, when "Martha" was given to a crowded house were Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Noyes, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Kinsell, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stelnendorf, Doctor and Mrs. Wilecox, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dunsmoor, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. H. # SOCIETY NEWS of the WEEK those written by Mr. Earl. The intelligent American, who has been trained to observe, finds much to write about of definite value to his neighbors at home. Mr. Earl has a literary style that is exceedingly good. Mrs. Earl and her daughters are still abroad, and they are spending late August days in Holland.

MISS FRANCES WILLIAMSON, bride-elect, for whom Mrs. E. J. Cowing will entertain.

Mrs. Benjamin Ida Wheeler returned to Berkeley last week, having been away from California since last September. On her arrival from Europe, Mrs. Wheeler went to Providence, Rhode Island, to visit her relatives there before returning to the coast.

Professor and Mrs. Walter Hart are among Californians returning from abroad this summer. Professor Hart is of the English department of the University of California, and Mr. Hart was formerly Agnes Borland, one of the popular daughters of Mrs. Archibald Borland.

Miss Jessica Peixotto, with her mother, is making a tour of Northern Europe, and is planning to spend September in Sweden. Miss Peixotto, who is one of California's most prominent women, will return to her work at the University in the year.

Miss H. H. Hart of Claremont is leaving for Europe this week, and is going directly to Germany, where her children are in school. She will bring them home with her and she plans to return to Oakland in the autumn. The Harts have one of the most magnificent homes in Oakland, with a view from the Claremont hills which is perhaps unsurpassed in the world.

OAKLAND PEOPLE AT DEL MONTE.

To many prominent Oakland families a stay each year at beautiful Del Monte is an annual event. Oakland people rarely go there very early in the summer, except for a week-end outing, preferring the warmer time of August and September for Del Monte days.

The golf tournament is the coming attraction at Del Monte, and among those leaving this week for that famous hotel are Mr. and Mrs. William Pierce Johnson, Miss Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Neville and Jack Nevile. The latter is to take part in the tournament.

Others who are planning to make a good record as possible on the golf links are Frank Kails, Mr. Newton and Mr. Sherwood. The members of the Claremont Country Club, are very glad that W. F. Garby is to represent their club in the golf tournament, for he is easily one of the best players in Northern California.

On Tuesday the golf links of the State golf tournament were played on the Potter Country Club links, and they were most exciting. They resulted in the victory of W. F. Garby of the Claremont Club over Andrew Welch of Burlingame, three up and two to go.

The mixed four-some played during the afternoon was won by W. F. Garby and Mrs. W. S. Porter.

The Andrew Welches have been spending the summer at Santa Barbara.

bara, and Andrew Welch is regarded as one of the best players in California, so Mr. Garby had an opponent worthy of his best efforts.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. White, who have been passing the summer at Los Gatos, are to spend the autumn there as well. They are very comfortably established in the picturesque mountain town, and every Sunday Mr. and Mrs. William White are their guests, motoring to Los Gatos, where they spend the day.

GIRLS MUST RETURN TO UNIVERSITY.

Among the most interesting of the informal dates of the early season are the complimentary affairs planned for those who must return to school in the autumn, and for the debutantes of the year. The girls who plan to go on to the University have only the summer in which to enjoy social affairs, for the college world is a world all by itself, and one rarely meets a university girl in the ordinary social affairs of the winter.

Miss Madeline Clay entertained at luncheon this week for a bright bevy of her young girl friends. Among them was Miss Crollin, who has chosen to go on to the University, and who is an exceedingly bright student.

Miss Marian Stone was also among the guests, and Miss Stone is planning to return East to graduate from the Spence School in New York.

Miss Eliza McMullan is going East for the winter, and in the late autumn she will be the guest of relatives in Kentucky. The younger set of girls have many interesting plans for the winter, and they will have the usual good times that are the heritage of young girls whose school days are just over.

CLOSED THEIR CAMP ON THE RIVER.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Scott have closed their camp, "Eagle's Nest," on the Russian River, and have returned to their East Oakland home. They enjoy camp life under very ideal conditions and they have entertained many friends this summer, and the young friends of their daughter Adele have been made especially welcome.

INTERESTING PEOPLE VISIT THE COAST.

The presence on the coast of interesting people is offering the reason for early entertaining this autumn.

Professor and Mrs. C. B. Bradley entertained at a delightful reception last evening, their guests of honor being Professor Howard Bradley and his wife.

Professor C. B. Bradley is of the University of California, and one of the best known instructors of English on the coast. The Bradleys have lived in California so long that they are among the best known members of the University of California faculty.

Californian who has pushed forward into much prominence in the educational world. He is a graduate of the University of California, and at Yale took his doctor's degree in the department of medicine. He holds now an important position in the medical department in the University of Wisconsin.

Many prominent people of Berkeley were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bradley last evening, in honor of the reception to their son, Professor Howard Bradley and his wife.

MR. AND MRS. HARMON BELL BACK IN TOWN.

Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Bell, who have been away all summer, have returned to town, and have opened their home at Piedmont. They spent some delightful weeks at Santa Barbara, where they had their own yacht and later they went to their country place in the Santa Cruz mountains. In the south and in the mountains they have had as their guests the Traylor Bells, who have also returned to town and who are again at their picturesque Piedmont home.

PICTURES IN THE MEDDLER.

Miss Frances Williamson, whose picture is in tonight's Meddler, one of the most feted of the bride-elects, has set the date of her wedding to George Franck for the evening of Tuesday, August 26; meanwhile it is being the motif for numerous affairs. The marriage will be a house affair and will be brilliant. An extensive bridal party has been chosen and a large number of guests invited to witness the ceremony.

On August 27, Mrs. E. Joseph Cowing, formerly Miss Edna Lehhardt, will entertain at bridge in honor of Miss Williamson.

Miss Amy Swayne, who accompanied her father on a visit to her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Swayne, returned to town yesterday. She is one of the most popular of the younger girls and is a frequent hostess at her Alameda home.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Swayne, old residents of the Encinal City.

Mrs. Edwin Nourse, who until her marriage last Wednesday night was Miss Ray Tyler, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Tyler of 1907 Telegraph avenue. The bride is a graduate of Wellesley University. The Tyler family formerly lived in Ogden.

Professor Nourse holds the chair of economics in the University of South Dakota, previously being connected with the University of Pennsylvania. After the wedding, which was solemnized at the residence of the bride's parents, the couple left on their honeymoon. They will make their future home at Vermillion, S. D.

Mrs. Robert Weinstock, who until her marriage of a fortnight ago was Miss Dorothy Hill, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Hill of San Francisco, is one of the very youngest of the society matrons about the bay. William H. Crocker are also among those who are at Del Monte for the months ago and previously to her golf tournament. All of them play more or less good golf. Mrs. McNear is quite an exceptional player and is improving in form all the time. Mrs. Laurence Scott is also showing a burst of her old-time form. Joe Redding plays a good game, as does Will Crocker. Society is now as excited about golf as it used to be about bridge. It still plays bridge, but everyone plays so well now that there is nothing left to talk about.

MR. AND MRS. STEWART TO ENTERTAIN.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Stewart are to entertain at an elaborate reception on the evening of August 27, their guests of honor to be Dr. Oratio Cogswell and Mrs. Cogswell, who are leaving in the near future for Los Angeles, where their future home will be.

The Stewarts will entertain their friends in Mr. Stewart's studio in Maple Hall.

ENTERTAINING FOR DR. AND MRS. YOUNGER.

Dr. and Mrs. Younger, who lived formerly in San Francisco, but who have been for many years residents of Paris, are visiting California for the first time in three years and are being much entertained by their old friends. Dr. Younger is the best known dentist in Paris and has been enormously successful. Mr. and Mrs. J. Downey Harvey entertained in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Younger, giving them a very pretty dinner on the occasion of the recent visit of the Harveys to San Francisco. Dr. and Mrs. Younger are also the guests of the Harveys at Del Monte over present week-end. Mrs. Younger and Mrs. Harvey were girls together in Sacramento. Joseph D. Redding gave a very small cafe dinner in honor of the Youngers. The affair was very quiet as Mr. Redding is in mourning, but he and his Youngers are very old and close friends. Mr. Redding also motored to Del Monte for the week-end, leaving on Thursday to return on Monday of next week.

Almost all society—or at least that part of it which plays off—gathered at Del Monte for the present week-end. Among those who motored down were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lund Jr., who motored down on Thursday of this week. Miss Florence Ives, an enthusiastic golf player, is at Del Monte where she is chaperoning her young niece, Miss Crocker, and Miss Lillian Wheeler, a Vassar girl who is home for her vacation.

Miss Theresa McEnery, one of the best woman players on the coast, is also at Del Monte, where she seldom leaves the links. She is chaperoning the pretty young step-daughter of Dr. McEnery, Miss Isabel McLaughlin, who is also at home for her vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Fred McNear, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Scott, (the latter a daughter of Senator Clark of Montana). The Pomeroy family is well connected. Mrs. Pomeroy was Miss Anna Morris of New York, a member of the well known Morris family. Miss Pomeroy's paternal grandfather was John Norton Pomeroy, an able lawyer of the old school, and for many years a professor in the Hastings Law College. The family is also connected with the Carters and Howard, prominent Southern families.

THE CALL OF THE MOUNTAINS.

Banff has been very popular this year. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Palache have been climbing adjacent mountains and resting in the hotel at Banff since the middle of July. They are expected home in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pomeroy and their little daughter have gone to Illinois to make their home for the next few years at least. They will take up their residence in Champaign, where the State University is located and where Mr. Pomeroy will be a lecturer in the law department. The University of Illinois is a large university, though one hears so little of it, the sons of prosperous Middle Western farmers being anxious for a college education. Mr. and Mrs. Pomeroy went East by way of Canada and Banff to avoid the heat. Mrs. Pomeroy was formerly Miss Anna Barrington of Oakland. The Pomeroy's were accompanied as far as Banff by Mrs. Pomeroy's mother, Mrs. Barrington, and by her niece, Miss Gertrude Gannan. Mrs. Barrington and her little granddaughter will return to San Francisco next week.

Among others who have just returned from the mountains are Mr. and Mrs. Warren Gregory, who returned to Berkeley last week after spending a month in the Yosemite Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Y. Campbell are also in the valley. They spent some time first at El Portal and then went on to the Valley, where they have been for a month. Mr. Campbell has not been well since a severe attack of grippe which he had in the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Dixwell Hewitt returned Thursday from the Yosemite Valley, where they spent the past month.

MISS MILLER IS IMPROVING.

Charming Miss Marian Miller, who has been again in the Adler Sanitarium, where another operation was performed, is again convalescent and her friends are hoping that she is on the road to complete recovery this time. Her room is bright with the flowers sent by her many friends for Miss Miller is a very popular girl.

DEATH SUMMONS MRS. TEWKSBURY.

Condolences are pouring in upon Mr. and Mrs. William Mintzer of 2300 Pacific avenue, the occasion being the death of Mrs. Mintzer's mother, Mrs. Emily Sutton Tewksbury. Mrs. Tewksbury has been ill for some months, but her wonderful constitution withstood the attacks of heart trouble. She was a beautiful aged lady, a real

HOW THE ELECTION RETURNS LOOK TO THE WISE MAN IN POLITICS

Some Lincoln-Roosevelt Candidates Given a Small Vote in the County; Works Badly Defeated in This District; Clay a Power in Future Politics Because of His Remarkable Run; Some Inconsistencies Are Pointed Out

With the returns from Alameda county tabulated an opportunity is presented for a careful analysis of Tuesday's vote. Wherever group of the politically wise congregate the many inconsistencies, peculiarities and surprises of the primary election are the general subjects of conversation. It is universally admitted that the direct primary has failed to entirely eliminate the practical politician and prevent political trading and manipulation.

Governor's Fight

In the gubernatorial contest it is pointed out that while Johnson carried the county by a plurality of 3854 over Curry, who ran second, the combined vote of Anderson and Curry exceeded Johnson's by 3261, and adding the vote of Ellery and Stanton, the aggregate majority against the Lincoln-Roosevelt candidate for governor in Alameda county totalled over 4000.

Wallace's Poor Showing

Albert J. Wallace was the Lincoln-Roosevelt candidate for lieutenant-governor. Francis V. Keessling was one of the regular nominees for this office, defeating Wallace in Alameda county by a plurality of 7612. As the Lieutenant-governor in his capacity as presiding officer of the state senate appoints the senate committee and in the case of the death or resignation of the state's chief executive would succeed to the office, the inconsistency of the vote appears more striking.

Works Ran Slow

When the advisory vote for United States senator is studied it is even more puzzling and startling. With Alameda county giving a plurality of over 3000 for Johnson, the Lincoln-Roosevelt League candidate for United States senator, Works received 4792 less votes than Reserve an avowed regular.

The other regular candidate, Spalding, ran 2447 votes ahead of Works, while the combined Republican majority against the Lincoln-Roosevelt candidate, represented by the votes of Spalding and Morse, reaches the astounding total of 11,775. Under the operation of the direct primary law it would appear that the voters of Alameda county had rendered their most emphatic disapproval of Works, the Lincoln-Roosevelt candidate for United States senator. Under the provisions of the direct primary law the vote actually amounts to an instruction against the Southern California Jurist. Works is an advocate of state division. Native sons throughout the northern part of the state fought Works on this issue, which accounts in part for his small vote above Tehachapi.

Berkeley contrived half of the plurality in Alameda county given Johnson. His small plurality in Oakland has been the cause of no little gossip on the streets and it is now hinted that there was no real opposition to the Lincoln-Roosevelt League candidate from certain quarters. In Alameda city and Berkeley Anderson led Curry. Washington and Murray townships gave Anderson a large vote.

Jordan's Claim

From present indications it would appear that the Alameda county candidates for state offices have been successful. Frank Jordan claims that he has received returns which make his selection as secretary of state certain. John Mitchell of Oakland is in the lead for member of the state board of equalization from the second district. Mitchell carried Alameda county by a majority of 5,277. Jordan's plurality in the county went to O'Brien. If Friend W. Richardson of Berkeley is defeated for state printer he can change it up to his small plurality in his home county, where he only ran 28 votes ahead of Shannon. Latest returns, however, appear to place Richardson in the lead throughout the state. Judge Bel-

DIVORCED WOMAN IS WIDOW, COURT DECLARES

The Wife Who Loses Husband Either Way Entitled to Wear Weeds.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—When is a widow not a widow, and does divorce have the same effect legally, on the parties to a marriage contract as does death?

These questions were answered this morning by Superior Judge Graham in connection with a petition in the records in the case of Simon L. Jones, who died in 1890, leaving a $500,000 estate to a person who obtains a divorce from his widow?" asked Judge Graham in stating the matter in conclusion in his opinion. He answers it in the affirmative, saying that she may be defined as a married woman who has lost her husband either by death or by a judicial decree."

The lady was enveloped in flames a moment later, Jones' clothing being burned from his body before help could reach him.

WANT GILLET TO CALL LEGISLATURE IN SESSION

Federated Improvement Club Seeks to Have Governor Take Prompt Action for the Panama-Pacific Exposition

ALAMEDA, Aug. 20.—A resolution asking Governor Gillett to summon the California legislature in special session in order that an appropriation might be made to aid San Francisco in the fight to secure the Panama exposition in 1915 was adopted last night at a meeting of the Federated Improvement Club of Alameda county, in Chabot hall.

The resolution was forwarded to Governor Gillett today by Alexander Mackie of the federation. The preamble of the resolution cites that the citizens of San Francisco have raised $7,000,000, that the municipality of San Francisco, through its officials, proposes to use $5,000,000 of this amount for the exposition, and that the entire state, the legislature should appropriate money to secure the fair.

Colonel John P. Irish was in attendance.
